

My network of support

Can you list five people in each of your network of support? In the first table list five friends that you would turn to for support and in the second table list five adults that you would turn to for support.

Can you also say why you picked the people that you did? Did they have any particularly qualities?

